NEW SIMPLIFIED MUSIC

At the meeting of the APH Publications Committee in 1969, it was recommended that the Printing House should concentrate, in so far as possible, on the production of scores for voice and individual instruments (other than keyboard music), since these are the main types of Braille music transcriptions children need to join bands, orchestras, and other musical groups. Additionally, at a meeting sponsored by the Library of Congress in the spring of 1970, it was directed that the Printing House, for research purposes make two versions of a number of such selections, one with and one without the embellishments such as nuances and dynamics. Further, the Library of Congress agreed to underwrite the plate costs for the following five titles in both versions.

Notes: The embellishments are omitted in the simplified edition of the voice and instrument scores, but have been retained in the piano accompaniments in each case. When ordering the following selections always be sure to indicate which edition you wish.
